

Momentum establishes new unit in Kiruna

Momentum Industrial – a part of Momentum Group, establishes a new unit in Kiruna with sales, technical expertise and local warehousing. The establishment strengthens Momentum Industrial's market position as the Nordic region's leading resellers of industrial components and associated services with focus on sustainability. The intention is to open the new unit during the first quarter of 2023.

– Demand for our products and services from industrial customers in the region has increased significantly in recent years. We have therefore decided to establish a unit in Kiruna to increase the local availability and service for both existing and new customers. The establishment in Kiruna will be the second this year after Mo i Rana in Norway and we now have 33 district offices. We are very happy and proud of the establishment in Kiruna, where we together with our employees, customers, partners and owners will work for a more sustainable industry in the region, says Jimmy Norlinder, Managing Director of Momentum Industrial.

The new unit is being built and established on Lastvägen 11 in Kiruna together with SKF Sweden. The unit will offer local accessibility to products, know-how from leading manufacturers, customized product training, logistics solutions and on-call service to industrial customers in the region.

– Our focus is to make our customers' companies more efficient and sustainable. We do this by offering quality products with high efficiency and long service life and services that streamline purchasing, inventory management, operational optimization and preventive maintenance. We look forward to the establishment in Kiruna and to contribute to the growing industry with a focus on sustainability in the region, says Tobias Bergström, District Manager at Momentum Industrial.

The recruitment of a few new employees for the establishment in Kiruna will be initiated during the third quarter.
